Dear Mr. Anthony Barnett:

Having attended the WCS NFPA 70E Implementation Course and Expo, you now know how serious OSHA is about electrical safety. Having a sound electrical safety program, as outlined in NFPA 70E, is essential to protecting your people and your business.

But do you currently have a sound electrical safety program in place? Are you NFPA 70E compliant? If an arc flash were to injure one of your employees today, would your employee be protected or would your company be exposed to OSHA citations and fines? Lack of training and the inappropriate level of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) are the leading causes of electrical injury and OSHA safety violations. Most electrical safety citations read:

A "...means of abatement would be to comply with the 2004 Edition of the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) 70E, Standard for Electrical Safety in the Workplace, Article 130, Working On or Near Live Parts"

Unfortunately, NFPA 70E can be:

- Confusing,
- Expensive and frustrating to implement, and
- Difficult to manage

But here's the GOOD NEWS... You do not have to figure this out alone. Professionals have already created great resources to help you. The Master's Academy, a professional training company, specializes in electrical safety training and program implementation for both commercial and industrial companies. The Master's Academy recognizes the difficulties and confusion associated with NFPA 70E and we have developed a proven program that makes NFPA 70E simple to understand and implement!

To further simplify the implementation process, Masters' Academy can train and guide you through the integration of NFPA 70E into your electrical safety program. Our program can be customized to the needs of your company.

I have enclosed a brochure which outlines our NFPA 70E Implementation Seminar. If you have any questions please contact me at 800-390-4366 or directly at 920-904-2892.

Sincerely,
